Legendary backpack ad infinitum guide

Legendary Backpack Ad Infinitum From Guild Wars 2 WikiJump to NavigateJump for SearchLegendary Backpack: Ad Infinitum is a legendary backpacks success that requires items from Fractals Mist combined with some specific tasks. This collection is the final step to getting the infinity gift needed to complete the legendary backpack, Ad Infinitum. Success [edit] Collection of items [edit] 1A single Fractal Journal requires 28 Fractal Research Page that can be obtained from the following sources: Thus, the optimized minimum time required for T4 players is 4 days (8 weekly + 4 days * 6 days * 6 days) Notes [edit] Fractal levels provided under Acquisition are the minimum levels that must be completed. You will need to save ascending items (non-ring) for 1 Ball of Dark Energy in addition to those gained from saving Upper Bound in order to purchase Aetherblade Diploma. See also [edit] From Guild Wars 2 WikiJump to NavigationJump for search This item allows you to select statistics. A list of available prefixes can be found below. Unused infusion slot Unused infusion slot – The description of Ad Infinitum is a legendary back item that can be obtained by fractal mist. Earning this item also unlocks the unique glider skin. Acquisition[edit] Collections [edit] Acquiring a predecessor, Unbound, requires players to complete three Ad Infinitum I - III collections. The fourth collection, Legendary Backpack: Ad Infinitum, will allow the creation of the legendary Ad Infinitum. These four collections will focus primarily on Fractals Mist, where players will be presented with challenges to complete and items to collect on their way for legendary back items. Materials list [edit] Effects [edit] When the player's weapon is drawn, an explosion of light particles emanate from the rear piece, followed by a constant glow behind the player's head. The backpiece itself expands in size, burning out with an increased span. The glow disappears in favor of a transparent line ley glow when the player's weapon is stored.
